

Presenter: Alain Paolini

Title: From Stakeholders to Transformers: Engaging Executives to Drive Project Success

Abstract: Transforming companies is a complex and challenging adventure! Often, stakeholders will determine success based on what they'll get out of the transformation, for themselves and for their teams. Meaningful business transformation requires challenging that premise to create a better collective outcome. Come learn how to engage stakeholders to become the actual transformers you need them to be, and deliver the project and transformation success you want.