

Corporate Training/Consulting

As a Corporate Trainer/Consultant for the Corporate and Workforce Solutions division of Front Range Community College, you will partner with businesses to provide short-term training to teach project management skills and concepts to employees. Trainers are welcome to provide their own curriculum. Alternatively, a standard curriculum for project management training can be provided to you. Curriculum will need to be tailored to meet the needs of individual organizations.

In this position, you will educate new and existing project managers on how to manage their projects more effectively. You will also address the latest findings from project management research, and changes in the marketplace. Your work will be performed on an engagement-based, part-time basis. Hours vary based upon client requests, but are usually 1 to 3 days in duration. Training opportunities will generally be in the Northern Colorado and North Metro areas. Trainings will be both in person and virtual.

TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES - Topics may include but are not limited to the following:

- Project Management
- PMP Exam Prep
- Agile
- Waterfall
- Scrum
- Train the Trainer

REQUIRED COMPETENCIES:

- Critical Thinking: Corporate trainers may have to develop or assess materials that will help project managers to better understand the project management concepts being taught. Trainers will have to understand the needs of the project managers and judge what will work.
- Decision Making: Trainers will have to decide the best programs to train the project managers and meet the needs of the organization.
- Communication Skills: Trainers need to speak present to groups of project managers, speak personally with individuals, report to management and meet with vendors. They must be friendly, clear, strong speakers.
- Presentation Skills: Trainers must have excellent presentation skills to present training programs.
- Interpersonal and Observational Skills: Trainers require good interpersonal and observational skills so that they can assess trainees understanding and knowledge of the training materials.

REQUIRED EDUCATION/EXPERIENCE:

- PMP
- Subject Matter Expertise: Trainers must have comprehensive knowledge of the project management topics they are discussing so that they can communicate the correct information and handle any questions from trainees. If they are providing instruction in skills, trainers must be competent to demonstrate the skill themselves.
- Proficiency with virtual training platforms such as Zoom to deliver training virtually is preferred

SELECTION PROCESS – If you are interested in being one of our Corporate Trainers, please email the following documents to FRCC.CorporateSolutions@frontrange.edu:

- Resume or Vitae detailing your qualifications
- Cover letter specifying what topics you are qualified and interested in being a Subject Matter Expert Trainer or Coach/Consultant